

NTT DATA Smart Office Maturity and Readiness Assessment

Embrace workplaces that foster collaboration, wellbeing and environmental sustainability.

Your office isn't just a place where work happens. It's a place where people connect, create and share a sense of belonging and purpose. But fragmented systems and limited visibility make it difficult to manage hybrid work strategies, optimize space utilization, improve employee experience and meet sustainability goals.

What's holding workplaces back

- Hybrid work blind spots — Limited visibility into space utilization and hybrid effectiveness
- Technology silos — Siloed smart office technologies without actionable intelligence
- Compliance and regulatory pressure — Increasing sustainability and regulatory demands
- Operational inefficiencies — Higher costs driven by underutilized assets and energy waste

The Smart Office Maturity and Readiness Assessment

NTT DATA's Smart Office Maturity and Readiness Assessment provides a fast, data-driven view of how well your workplace supports employee experience, operational efficiency, flexibility and sustainability.

What you gain:

- Executive summary report
- A clear maturity score
- Targeted gap analysis
- A transformation roadmap tied to business outcomes
- Prioritized action plan

Five dimensions of workplace maturity:

- Employee experience and wellbeing — Healthy and productive workplaces
- Space and energy utilization — Asset efficiency and cost optimization
- Sustainability — Environmental and regulatory alignment
- Compliance — Safety, governance and legislative readiness
- People and adoption — Workforce resilience and flexibility
